An awareness program titled “Unfold Your Wings” in Association with Aiden Consultancy and Services.

Getting to know the inner self is best done by listening to your inner conscience, which is the state of being where one meets the inner self. In a world full of material inculcations, an individual sometimes forgets the State of their being. The peculiarities of human society make a person plunge into various roles of life, within these amalgamations of roles and responsibility; it becomes necessary to know yourself. Looking around these perspectives at the center, President Science College’s Collegiate Women Development Cell Organized an Awareness program titled “Unfold Your Wings” in Association with Aiden Consultancy and Services on date 19th July 2022.

The program began with the welcome speech by respected Principal Dr. Shivangi Mathur. The dignitaries were addressed by the Chairperson of CWDC Ms. Asma Shaikh. An insightful speech by Munjal Patel, Co-founder and career counselor at Aiden Consultancy and Services, initiated the technical session. The program addressed several themes for the advancement of students, covering the topics such as Self- awareness, Skills for career development, The importance of communication and its barriers, and emotional intelligence. The participation of students built an enormous environment in the session, along with discussion followed by a questionnaire session. The program was summoned by a Vote of thanks and a feedback form was circulated to students for their reviews and suggestions.
